I am calling for the opinion for the Royal Victoria Hospital. I guess McGill is planning to take over and do all sorts of things with it. The person who requested initially did want it to be used always for healthcare, so perhaps there should be a section for elderly people, a nursing home, a senior residents, something like that. I hope we don't have McDonald's in there or any other multinational organization. Also, the swimming pool that should be reopened that should be for the public, perhaps as the same as a City of Montreal public swimming pool with lifeguards and specific hours, changing rooms. I think that would be important. Very nice setting for it and as well whoever is going to stay in the building, it's a lovely setting so we cannot lose that. And we should really preserve the historic facade as much as possible. That's, I think is very important for the City of Montreal for the heritage aspect, the patrimoine and just for the look of the building. Even the newer buildings probably should not be taken down because that adds to pollution, the greenest buildings they say are already built, so those should be reused somehow without taking them down. Thank you very much.
