As Griffintown residents, we strongly oppose the proposed construction of three towers reaching up to 100 metres in height.

This project significantly exceeds the original 25-metre height limit and threatens the character and quality of life of our neighbourhood.

We are concerned about increased traffic, reduced sunlight, excessive density, and additional pressure on already strained infrastructure.

The concerns raised by residents during previous public consultations must not be ignored simply to accommodate developers.

We support responsible development, not uncontrolled densification.

We urge the City of Montréal to reject the project in its current form and require a proposal that respects Griffintown and its residents.
